

Delivery Share Application - 2020

How It Works

For our 20 week season from June through October, members receive a farmer curated box of in-season produce delivered to their home free of charge. Deliveries take place on Mondays and Tuesdays from 5-8pm and will begin in early June of 2020. Though it may slightly vary by week, boxes generally have a retail value 30% higher than their cost. This means that a box costing $30 per week is actually worth close to $40! Find our 3 share sizes below...

Small - $400 Ideal for households of 1-2, our small delivery share provides a very manageable amount of produce valued at approximately $26 per week. If you're unsure how much you can handle or generally keep it light on the veggies, this option may be right for you.

Medium - $600 Our most popular share size, the medium delivery share is great for families of 2-4 and supplies an ample amount of produce (just under $40 weekly). This option is best for households that regularly consume vegetables and want to get a great bang for their buck!

Large - $800 If your big family loves their veggies, the large delivery share is a must! Valued at over $50 weekly, this option provides exceptional value and a generous amount of fresh, delicious produce.
